

First Fete for Kiwi Primary School

Last Updated Tuesday, 04 July 2006

On what was potentially one of the hottest Saturdays of the summer, Kiwi Primary School in Bulford put themselves firmly on the Fete calendar - by holding their very first school fayre.

With a host of things to see and do, parents and children were guaranteed to enjoy the activities laid on by the organisers.

Among those supporting the event was Castledown Radio's 'Really Red Radio Roadshow', with presenters Rick Young and Shirley Swain.

Click on the following links to hear Shirley chatting to one of the organisers, a stallholder and a soldier from Bulford's Royal Green Jackets.

Click here to listen to Castledown Radio's Shirley Swain chatting to school governor and organiser, Mick Catling:

Click here to listen to Shirley chatting to a stallholder for Partylite Candles:

Click here to listen to Shirley chatting to soldiers from the Royal Green Jackets: